SPECIAL SESSION LEGISLATURE NOT PLANNED-WALTON

Governor Reiterates Statement That no Call Will be Made for Solons.

ALL SCHOOLS HIT

Walton States Belief That Supreme Court Will Not Alter Decision.

(By the Associated Press)
OKLAHOMA CITY, June 8.—Following publication of the report that appropriations for the state schools allowed by the Ninth legislature and reduced by Gov. J. C. Walton would be called into question in an action to be filed July 1, the chief executive today reiterated that "whatever happens" he will not call a special session of the legislature.

He said he could not believe that the state supreme court would render a decision which would be "so unpopular" as holding his cuts of appropriations unconstitutional.

The governor added, however, that if such a decision were reached he is confident that he can find some way to keep the schools open.

The schools which would be affected are the state university, A. & M. college, Oklahoma College for Women, five of the state normal schools, the state business college, the state industrial school for boys, the state orphan's home at Pryor and the orphan's home for negro children.

Bills May Be Dead.

Whether he killed the entire item by his attempted "split veto" or whether he actually approved the entire item, if he lacked authority for the action taken, remains to be determined, it is said.

Majority opinion inclines to the belief, however, that all items so treated are dead. If that opinion is the opinion of the supreme court, then but one alternative remains, and that a special session of the legislature, unless half of the state's institutions are to be closed for the next two years.

Persons high in the councils of the Walton administration have said that the chief executive would never call a special session.

Marital Law Planned?

Several, in fact, have stated that he would declare martial law at institutional towns and commandeer services of instructors and supplies. This latter course, however, has no precedent and observers have taken such predictions with a grain of salt.

Yet it remains that administration leaders do not desire a special session and they do not hesitate to say so. For one thing, the senate might demand the right of passing upon new boards of regents appointed, as well as new members of the state board of agriculture.

One Right Not Limited.

Failure of such boards to win senatorial sanction might disturb the status quo, not only at Stillwater, but at the Miami School of Mines, the university and at several other institutions.

It is pointed out that the governor has the right to limit subjects upon which the legislature can act at a special session. Yet there is one exception to that right, and that is impeachment. Observers have not put their finger upon grounds for the latter action, yet under the guise of an impeachment investigation, special committees could be named to investigate any or all departments of state and such action could be very harassing to the administration, it is pointed out, even though such questions be fruitless.

Anti Forces Have Program.

Then, again, it is no secret that anti-administration legislators have mapped out a program of their own in the event of a special session. In the house, the Stovall-Disney faction stands ready to attempt the displacement of Murray F. Gibbons as speaker in favor of either D. A. Stovall or Hugo, or W. D. McBee of Duncan.

In the senate Harry Jones of Stillwater would push an attempt to take state schools out of politics and should the governor refuse to let such a subject be considered, much confusion might result, senators say, without going so far as to state what steps might be taken.

Actress May Sue Farrar

Stella Larrimore.

(By Central Press)
NEW YORK, June 8.—Talk is cheap but it takes real cold coin of the realm to assuage the wounded feelings of a slandered actress.

Stella Larrimore, Broadway actress, whose name became a by-word following startling revelations in the Farrar-Tellegen divorce suit vehemently denied the charges of Geraldine Farrar's detectives that she had indulged in a petting party with Lou Tellegen on a park bench in the wee sma' hours of the morning.

Declaring her determination to vindicate her name of the charges she went to court and she obtained full and complete exoneration.

But the exoneration, handed down by Justice Lehman in an official court decision, consisted merely of so many words.

The judge said the remarks made about Miss Larrimore at divorce trial were untrue, scurrilous and once more she became heralded before the world in general as a "regular home girl."

But since the decision was handed down Miss Larrimore apparently has come to the conclusion that talk is cheap but it takes money to assuage wounded feelings.

So Miss Larrimore has threatened to seek further vindication, vindication in the terms of dollars and cents to the tune of a cool million.

She now threatens to sue Geraldine Farrar for that amount for the alleged slander.

Miss Larrimore, who says she is 18, formerly was a leading woman in one of Lou Tellegen's plays.

Want Salary

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 8.—John A. Whitehurst, president of the state board of agriculture, today asked an opinion from Attorney General George Short as to whether J. B. Eskridge, deposed president of the A. & M. college, and faculty members who have likewise been released, can collect salaries from the state until the termination of their contracts.

Most of the contracts run until July 1 and one to September 1, Mr. Whitehurst explained.

OZARK TRAIL IS MADE PASSABLE

Ada Motor Club Workers Open Traffic on Important Road.

The Ozark Trail at the Springbrook crossing is now passable to motor traffic.

Such is the glad tidings broadcast to all wayfarers of the road by the little band of road workers organized under the appeal of the Ada Motor club.

Twenty-five men and six trucks did the work and made transportation on the Ozark trail a certainty again instead of a drawback that constituted a detriment to all pilgrims of pleasure and business to Ada's hospitality.

N. B. Stall, president of the Ada Motor club, had charge of organizing the forces and preliminary plans for patching up the breach in the Ozark Trail at Springbrook. Stall made a canvass of the business section of the city and secured labor, trucks and funds that made possible this benevolent deed for the preservation of motor traffic through Ada.

The little band of workers left the Sterling Motor company Thursday morning and spent the day in building the temporary bridge across the 70-foot mudhole that had blocked traffic for the past two weeks.

The work was under the direct supervision of County Commissioner J. I. Laughlin, who praised the work of the Ada Motor club in assisting in the emergency condition.

Several traveling men, who were passing at the time, left their cars and assisted in the work, grateful that an effort was being made to establish traffic for themselves and tourists traveling through this part of the country.

The seriousness of the demoralization of motor traffic by the Springbrook washout was emphasized when one of the army trucks on duty stuck in a mudhole, blocking the road. During the two hours spent in getting the truck out of the hole, cars lined up to the length of several blocks waiting for passage.

Stall reported that several who had promised aid did not report, while others who had only had the matter mentioned to them had responded freely.

WHITEHURST NOT ON PEACE TERMS

Claims Agreement on Wilson Faculty Selection not True Sign.

(By the Associated Press)
OKLAHOMA CITY, June 8.—John A. Whitehurst, president of the state board of agriculture, denied today that his approval of the faculty for the A. & M. college recommended by George Wilson, president of the institution, was significant of a truce between Wilson and himself. Whitehurst bitterly opposed Wilson's appointment, but acquiesced at a board meeting Wednesday to Wilson's list.

"Approval of Wilson's faculty recommendations was in line with my general policy to permit the presidents of the institution to select their own assistants," Whitehurst said.

Whitehurst declared that he was prepared to wage a stern fight at the board meeting July 1 if any attempt is made to interfere with his own corps of workers in the board's office at the capitol.

Whitehurst revealed today that the Walton members of the board at the Wednesday meeting had passed a resolution calling on Eskridge to vacate the president's home on the campus. Unknown to the board Eskridge was at that time en route to Nashville to the bedside of his mother who is critically ill.

When Whitehurst called the Eskridge home by telephone late yesterday he learned of his absence.

Whitehurst said that he did not know what could be done to adjust the situation. Eskridge cannot be asked to leave his mother he said, and the board will not meet again until July 1 when a suspension of the edict could be voted.

Whitehurst said that Mary C. Brogren, retiring dean of women, was given two hours last evening to vacate her apartment in a dormitory on the campus.

WALTON DENIES MEETING MEANT TO HURT LEAGUE

Governor Maintains Conference Called to Work Out Group Problems.

COTTON GROWERS HIT

Wheat Growers not Permitted to Attend Conference Walker Says.

(By the Associated Press)
OKLAHOMA CITY, June 8.—Gov. J. C. Walton denied today that his call for a meeting of the heads of farm and labor organizations to discuss a legislative program was an effort to unseat the Farmer-Labor Reconstruction League.

He said that his purpose in summoning them here June 18 was merely to get an expression from all agricultural and laboring groups in the state as to the means of furthering their cause.

"There is no motive in the call except to get down to the grass roots," the executive said.

"The cotton growers can do as they please. If they are not interested in legislation which is to their advantage they don't have to attend."

"Why should I call the League specifically when I am inviting the men who control it?" the governor asked in reply to a reference that the League had not been invited to send representatives to the conference. "This will be a League meeting," he added.

When the governor's call for the meeting was issued Wednesday it was accepted as a move to end the power of the Reconstruction League. This belief was based largely on the fact that the League was not invited to participate in the conference.

MUSKOGEE, June 8.—In the absence of President Andy McGarry from the state, officers at the district headquarters of the United Mine Workers declined to state what attitude the organization would take on Gov. Walton's meeting of delegates from labor organizations in Oklahoma City, June 18.

ENID, June 18.—If the conference called by Gov. Walton for June 18 for the purpose outlined by the executive of placing the Farm-Labor movement in the hands of the rank and file is called for political reasons, the Oklahoma Wheat Growers association is not permitted by its constitution to participate, it was stated this morning by President Walker of Hollis in a long distance telephone conversation with the Enid Daily Eagle.

Ada Club Slated for Tangle Here With Tishomingo

Ada Amateurs were balancing their chances for another victory in their path for state amateur championship in their prospects with the Tishomingo club here Sunday afternoon at the City Park.

The Tishomingo club has been rated as good and in support of the contention show their victory record over Durant and other teams in that section of the state.

The Ada club is getting into its proper swings as the two victories over Okemah indicate. Errorless playing on the parts of members of the club and a keener eye for batting honors have increased the rating of the team considerably.

TWO SUSPECTS IN CHICAGO MURDER

Policeman Suspended for His Rough Treatment of Reporters.

(By the Associated Press)
CHICAGO, June 8.—Miss Billie Conn, one of the women sought by the police in an effort to clear up the mystery concerning the killing Tuesday night of Richard C. Tesmer by a woman robber while Tesmer's wife looked on, was still held today and was to be confronted by Mrs. Tesmer.

MILWAUKEE, June 8.—Mrs. Gertrude Getzer, wanted in Chicago in connection with the slaying of Richard C. Tesmer, has been located in a Michigan city, Harry McCrory, captain of detectives of Milwaukee announced at noon today. Capt. McCrory advised the Chicago police that her capture could be effected in short order. The Milwaukee officer did not divulge the woman's exact location.

CHICAGO, June 8.—C. M. Mayo, patrolman, was under suspension today pending investigation by the police board into charges that he had severely beaten several newspaper reporters, including two women writers, when they attempted to attend the inquest at the home of Mrs. Richard Tesmer last Wednesday in connection with the slaying of her husband.

In addition to beating them with his club, the two young women told Chief of Police Collins that Mayo tore their dresses nearly off when they asked to go into the Tesmer residence and then attacked several male reporters and photographers who went to their assistance.

Mayo said he was doing his duty in keeping press representatives away.

MERCHANTS HOST TO GILT WINNERS

Business Men's Association Entertains Boy Winners in Pig Contest.

The Retail Merchants association held one of the banner meetings Thursday evening at the Chamber of Commerce rooms when the merchants entertained the recipients of the registered gifts given away several months ago, together with the parents of the boys.

The dinner was served by the ladies of the First Christian church, after which the Woman's Chorus of the city entertained with solos and chorus selections. Miss Natalie Manville rendered two vocal selections. Mrs. Harry Scheinberg rendered a violin solo and Miss Julia Nicholson gave two readings. The chorus gave two selections and responded with an encore.

A talk was made by Mr. Walcott, representative of the Y. M. C. A., who is working particularly in the interest of more religious training among high school boys and girls. He paid a tribute to the good the agricultural clubs are doing and advised the boys present not only to grow blooded stock, but to grow themselves as thoroughbreds.

Six of the ten boys who received the pigs were present. Pete Atkinson and his mother, Mrs. Minnie Atkinson, were unable to get here otherwise, and walked the four miles to the city to be present. They did not walk back.

The boys present were Oscar Cantwell and father, W. B. Cantwell; Bruce Nolen and father, A. E. Nolen; Haskell Tilley and father, A. T. Tilley; Jack McMinn and father, J. O. McMinn; Haskell Floyd and father, C. W. Floyd; Pete Atkinson and mother, Mrs. Minnie Atkinson.

The boys told how they are caring for their hogs and the progress they are making. One says his sow now weighs about 250 pounds.

The next trade day will be held July 7, according to the decision reached and a varied program will be announced later.

Friday the following letter from Haskell Floyd was handed in at the News office:

To the Merchants Association:

In behalf of the Boys Pig Club we want to thank you for the kindness and appreciation shown us yesterday evening—the nice speeches and especially the good things to eat. We are determined to make good with our pigs.

START PROBE ON BUCKETING CASE IN CURB FAILURE

Police Called in to Trace Down Records in Curb Market House.

RECORDS ARE STOLEN

Winkelman Failure Intensifies Search for Questionable Concerns.

(By the Associated Press)
NEW YORK, June 8.—District Attorney Banton, who is investigating charges of bucketing against several bankrupt brokerage houses, today called on the police to aid him in tracing records of the curb market house of L. L. Winkelman & Co., which disappeared a few minutes after the involuntary bankruptcy petition had been filed.

Mr. Banton rushed Assistant District Attorney Gibbs to the Winkelman house as soon as he learned of the crash. Mr. Gibbs reported that he had been informed that several large packages, presumably records of the firm, had been taken away in a taxicab.

Failure of the Winkelman house, which was the largest firm holding membership in the New York curb market, intensified Mr. Banton's campaign against brokers alleged to have operated in a questionable manner. United States Attorney Haywood also has entered the investigation seeking evidence of an alleged conspiracy to defraud investors.

George Gordon Battle, attorney for the firm, issued a statement declaring his clients asserted they were solvent and intended to cooperate with the receiver to the fullest extent. Attorney Battle denied that any records had been removed from the Winkelman place of business after the announcement of the failure.

"District Attorney Banton will find," he said, "that all the records that were in the house are as they were before the filing of the bankruptcy petition."

NEW YORK, June 8.—An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed in federal court today against the stock brokerage firm of L. L. Winkelman, second largest member of the New York curb market.

The petition was the climax of an exciting forenoon at the Winkelman offices during which the doors of the firm were temporarily closed only to be opened again later.

Liabilities of the Winkelman firm were placed at $1,750,000 and assets at $1,500,000 in the application for a receivership made before Federal Judge Boudy. Judge Bondy named Charles L. Livingston as receiver with a bond for $500,000.

Suspension of the Winkelman firm from the New York curb market was announced shortly before noon.

Officers at Scott field described the trip as an other chapter in the romance of aviation, asserting the 325 mile trip proved the prowess of a big semi-rigid craft in bad weather flying.

ISLAND DISPUTE FOR CONFERENCE

Rose Covered Island Gets Attention at Lausanne Parley.

(By the Associated Press)
BUCHAREST, June 8.—On the agenda of the Lausanne conference is an item which has baffled the world's statesmen who are trying to reestablish peace in the Near East. It is the question of the "Kadi of Ada Kaleh." At first nobody knew whether Kadi or Ada Kaleh was the name of a man, a geographical term, a state of mind, a mystic Turkish phrase, or a specie of banana. Inquiry by the peace delegates, however, showed that Ada Kaleh is a delightful little island in the Danube near the "Iron Gates," with only a few thousand Mohammedan inhabitants who grow roses and extract the essence from life leaves. The minaret of the only mosque on the island is a well known landmark on the Danube as boats pass through the Iron Gates. Ismet Pasha claims Ada Kaleh for Turkey, while Rumania insists it is hers by reason of the Trianon treaty. Before the treaty Ada Kaleh was in Hungarian possession, although the Budapest government always recognized the nominal sovereignty of the sultan over the isle.
The victories of Kemal Pasha reawakened Turkish nationalism among the peaceful rose and tobacco planters on the picturesque "isle of Roses," and they sent a petition to Angora asking Kemal to reestablish the ancient Turkey sovereignty over the island.
Mustapha Kemal dispatched a Kadi, or judge to Ada Kaleh, and the Rumanian government, suspecting nothing and regarding him as only a harmless Turkish visitor, granted a visa to Kemal's emissary. Now Ismet Pasha pretends that the granting of the visa is equivalent to the recognition of Turkey's rights to the island.
When the Rumanian authorities learned that the newly-arrived Kadi had taken over the administration of the island they immediately asked him to leave Ada Kaleh, and with all honors due to Kemal's governor, the Kadi has very politely been deported from Rumanian territory.

Evangelist Brings Welcomed Messages With Sermons Here

Rev. Butler brought two more great messages yesterday. At the morning hour he preached on "Heaven." It was the best ever heard here on that subject. The listeners "carried away in the spirit" as it were, "to a great high mountain" and shown "That Great City," the Holy Jerusalem, with its "high walls," "gates of pearl," streets of gold, and "the great white throne" and "He" that sat upon it. "The Lamb that is the light thereof." It was good to be there.
The evening service was well attended. The preacher brought another great message from the twelfth verse of the third chapter of John.
"Whosoever is in His hand and He will thoroughly purge His floor and gather His wheat into the garner; but He will burn up the chaff with unquenchable fire." The preacher cited many ways the Lord is "burning out the dross." He declared that the calamities and pestilences such as storms, floods, boll weevils, with the financial depression of our country are the judgments of the Almighty God upon the people for their disobedience and sins. Scientists may rack their brain and invent all kinds of methods, and compound chemicals for their destruction but the only remedy is a mighty turning to God and paying Him first, which belongs to Him. Malak 2:8, 12. At the close of the sermon there was one profession of faith in Christ and some came for prayer.
Come to this meeting. Services at 10 a. m. and 8 p. m.

REVENUE OFFICER STRANGELY SLAIN IN INN RAID

Officer Brenon of the U. S. Revenue Service was mysteriously shot and killed during a raid on an inn near Palm Beach, Fla., last night. Acting on a hunch, Brenon went to Sheriff Holme's office and enlisted the aid of Detectives Brown, Kane and others. When the officers arrived at the resort, however, they found no traces of liquor. Brenon suggested that someone had tipped off the proprietor.

In an ante-room just off of the main hall, was Roger Wainwright, a wealthy New York man who owns the plantations next to Brenon's and who is deeply interested in the officer's beautiful daughter, Gale. In a scuffle with Congo, a "bouncer" who had attempted to rob Wainwright of his wallet, a bullet was discharged, the bullet piercing the door.

In the hall Brenon, who had shadowed Deputy Brown and discovered him accepting money as payment for tipping off the raid, drops dead. Brown sets out after the suspected murderer. But the all-important question arises: Did Wainwright shot kill Brenon? Witnesses declare that this could not be because of the position in which the officer was standing. He was at an angle from the door of the ante-room, and the bullet would have to travel obliquely to hit him. Again the question arises: Who fired the shot that killed him, and was it an accident?

The solution of the mystery is to be found at the McSwain Theatre today in the paramount picture, "Fog bound," with Dorothy Dalton in the stellar role. The incident described is an outline of scenes in this interesting production by Irvin Willat. Warren Cook plays the role of Brenon, and Deputy Brown is impersonated by Maurice Costello. Roger Wainwright is played by David Powell, the leading man, while the part of Sheriff Kane is in the hands of Jack Richardson.

Others in the cast are Martha Mansfield, Mrs. Ella Miller, Willard Cooley and William David. Paul Dickey made the adaptation for the screen from the story of Jack Bech-dolt. The photography by Henry Cronjager is a revelation.

ARMS IN IRELAND BEING LOCATED

Few Minor Outbreaks Only Rupture of Truce of Recent Peace.

DUBLIN, June 7.—Obedience to the cease firing order of Frank Eiken Chief of Staff for De Valera, has been general throughout Ireland, and the doubt whether irregular activities could be stopped by anybody has not been justified. There have been a few cases of attempted outrage, but not more numerous than those alleged after the truce with the British in 1921. The most noteworthy was the firing of shots at the suburban home of Martin Fitzgerald, proprietor of the Freeman's Journal, when no damage was done. Many irregulars

The Economy BAKING POWDER

One trial will prove it has more than the ordinary leavening strength—prove that it effects

a big saving in cost, time and materials. It is always uniform—the last spoonful is as good as the first. The sale of Calumet is over 150% greater than that of any other baking powder in America—further proof of its superior merit.

THE WORLD'S GREATEST BAKING POWDER

have dumped their arms and returned quietly to their families, and several dumps have been found by the national troops, whose searches continue to be minute and exhaustive. The expectation is that without any formal peace the whole conflict will wear out entirely within a couple of months.

Some good political judges, old members of the Irish parliamentary party at Westminster, are of the opinion that the government's tacit ignoring of the De Valera proclamation was much the wisest course, and public opinion is now veering that way. But there are many who think a formal peace would be worth buying, if the price were small enough and internecine warfare is still busy with that object.

Frank Fahy, a republican member of the Dail, has urged "such a slight change in the constitution as would admit all sections to take part in the life of the nation." This means the abrogation of the oath of allegiance to King George and Republicans believe that England would not now enforce by war that part of the treaty obligation.

An element of danger to the prevailing peace may be found in the continuance of executions. Some more are expected very soon following on trials for attacks on troops. Threatening notices have been received by some Free State officers warning them that executions will be avenged. Such threats will not, of course, affect the decision of the commander-in-chief, and the power to fulfill them has been largely curtailed. But the feeling of bitterness caused by executions is very intense, and seems the most likely cause for a renewal of conflict.

Canadian Grower Pours Out Wrath on Titled Court

(By the Associated Press)

MOOSE JAW, Sask., June 8.—Charged with making a seditious speech at a meeting of grain growers last January, Fred McIntyre, a farmer of the Royal George School district, south of Caron, Sask., was recently committed for trial here. He was released on bail.

McIntyre is alleged to have made the seditious remarks during a discussion on titles, and is charged with having said:

"I count myself as good a man as King George. I would not be scared to challenge him to a foot race, to wrestle, or to fight, although he is fed up in a box stall on choice food. If I had my way, I would take a club and stand at the border and knock the brains out of everyone that came into the country with a title. I would make no mistake about it, as I know where to hit them."

CHURCHES

"A Patriotic Prisoner"

And "Whose art thou and whither goest thou?"
At the Presbyterian church Sunday morning you will enjoy the study of the Sunday school lesson and the sermon of the pastor on the life and character of a prisoner of war who became popular and held responsible place as the private servant of the king in the country of his captivity, but whose love of home and country never waned but burned as a fire in his soul till the king permitted him to return and build the walls of his native city. Then again you should attend the services at night and get a part of two or three other inspiring bible stories in considering with the pastor the question "Whose art thou and whither goest thou?"

Bible stories of real heroes are always more fascinating and far more inspiring than fiction because here you study real characters and makers of history while in fiction you often study the hallucinations of a mind incapable of great thoughts inspiring to noble deeds.

We are now under permanent roof in our unfinished church and you will find out large airy basement cool and our services and fellowship refreshing to lone some housewife students or to weary overworked minds and bodies so come along and know us and each other better and above all know the Lord better and be strengthened for the tasks of the week to follow.

"Come thou with us and we will do thee good."

REV. E. O. WHITWELL, D. D. Minister.

First Baptist Church

Next Sunday will be "Baby Day" at the First Baptist Sunday School. This is an annual affair at our church and is one of the great days in all the year. Mrs. F. R. Laird is the superintendent of this department and has an enrollment of about seventy babies. The mothers and fathers are urged to come Sunday and bring their babies and at the close of the Sunday School lesson period they will give a short program. The mothers will sit on the rostrum with their little ones. If there are other mothers who have babies who have not been enrolled in that department, they are urged to bring their babies Sunday morning and they will also be enrolled.

We had a total of 560 in our Sunday school last Sunday and 97 at the Westside Mission making a total of 657 in all our schools. We are expecting to go beyond 700 this Sunday and this is your invitation to be present and help make it possible.

The pastor will preach Sunday morning on the subject, "The conditions of Discipleship," and at the evening hour on the subject, "The Tragedy of the Beginning of Sin." The B. Y. P. U.'s will all meet at seven o'clock. They had a combined attendance last Sunday of more than one hundred fifty. All the young people are cordially invited and urged to come and unite with one of these unions.

SPECIAL SESSION LEGISLATURE NOT PLANNED-WALTON

Governor Reiterates Statement That no Call Will be Made for Solons.

ALL SCHOOLS HIT

Walton States Belief That Supreme Court Will Not Alter Decision.

(By the Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 8.—Following publication of the report that appropriations for the state schools allowed by the Ninth legislature and reduced by Gov. J. C. Walton would be called into question in an action to be filed July 1, the chief executive today reiterated that "whatever happens" he will not call a special session of the legislature.

He said he could not believe that the state supreme court would render a decision which would be "so unpopular" as holding his cuts of appropriations unconstitutional.

The governor added, however, that if such a decision were reached he is confident that he can find some way to keep the schools open.

The schools which would be affected are the state university, A. & M. college, Oklahoma College for Women, five of the state normal schools, the state business college, the state industrial school for boys, the state orphan's home at Pryor and the orphan's home for negro children.

Bills May Be Dead.

Whether he killed the entire item by his attempted "split veto" or whether he actually approved the entire item, if he lacked authority for the action taken, remains to be determined, it is said.

Majority opinion inclines to the belief, however, that all items so treated are dead. If that opinion is the opinion of the supreme court, then but one alternative remains, and that a special session of the legislature, unless half of the state's institutions are to be closed for the next two years.

Persons high in the councils of the Walton administration have said that the chief executive would never call a special session.

Marital Law Planned?

Several, in fact, have stated that he would declare marital law at institutional towns and commandeer services of instructors and supplies. This latter course, however, has no precedent and observers have taken such predictions with a grain of salt.

Yet it remains that administration leaders do not desire a special session and they do not hesitate to say so. For one thing, the senate might demand the right of passing upon new boards of regents appointed, as well as new members of the state board of agriculture.

One Right Not Limited.

Failure of such boards to win senatorial sanction might disturb the status quo, not only at Stillwater, but at the Miami School of Mines, the university and at several other institutions.

It is pointed out that the governor has the right to limit subjects upon which the legislature can act at a special session. Yet there is one exception to that right, and that is impeachment. Observers have not put their finger upon grounds for the latter action, yet under one guise of an impeachment investigation, special committees could be named to investigate any or all departments of state and such action could be very harassing to the administration. It is pointed out, even though such quests be fruitless.

Anti Forces Have Program.

Then, again, it is no secret that anti-administration legislators have mapped out a program of their own in the event of a special session. In the house, the special-business faction stands ready to attempt the displacement of Murray F. Gibbs as speaker in favor of either D. A. Stovall or Hugo, or W. D. McFee of Duncan.

In the senate Harry Jones of Stillwater would push an attempt to take state schools out of politics and should the governor refuse to let such a subject be considered, much confusion might result, senators say, without going so far as to state what steps might be taken.

Actress May Sue Farrar

Stella Larrimore.

(By Central Press)

NEW YORK, June 8.—Talk is cheap but it takes real cold coin of the realm to assuage the wounded feelings of a slandered actress.

Stella Larrimore, Broadway actress, whose name became a by-word following startling revelations in the Farrar-Tellegen divorce suit vehemently denied the charges of Geraldine Farrar's detectives, that she had indulged in a petting party with Lou Tellegen on a park bench in the wee sma' hours of the morning.

Declaring her determination to vindicate her name of the charges she went to court and she obtained full and complete exoneration.

But the exoneration, handed down by Justice Lehman in an official court decision, consisted merely of so many words.

The judge said the remarks made about Miss Larrimore at divorce trial were untrue, scurrilous and once more she became heralded before the world in general as a "regular home girl."

But since the decision was handed down Miss Larrimore apparently has come to the conclusion that talk is cheap but it takes money to assuage wounded feelings.

So Miss Larrimore has threatened to seek further vindication, vindication in the terms of dollars and cents to the tune of a cool million.

She now threatens to sue Geraldine Farrar for that amount for the alleged slander.

Miss Larrimore, who says she is 18, formerly was a leading woman in one of Lou Tellegen's plays.

Want Salary

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 8.—John A. Whitehurst, president of the state board of agriculture, today asked an opinion from Attorney General George Short as to whether J. B. Eskridge, deposed president of the A. & M. college, and faculty members who have likewise been released, can collect salaries from the state until the termination of their contracts.

Most of the contracts, run until July 1 and one to September 1, Mr. Whitehurst explained.

OZARK TRAIL IS MADE PASSABLE

Ada Motor Club Workers Open Traffic on Important Road.

The Ozark Trail at the Springbrook crossing is now passable to motor traffic.

Such is the glad tidings broadcasted to all motorists of the road by the little band of road workers organized under the appeal of the Ada Motor club.

Twenty-five men and six trucks did the work and made transportation on the Ozark trail a certainty again instead of a drawback that constituted a detriment to all pilgrims of pleasure and business to Ada's hospitality.

N. B. Stall, president of the Ada Motor club, had charge of organizing the forces and preliminary plans for patching up the breach in the Ozark Trail at Springbrook. Stall made a canvass of the business section of the city and secured labor, trucks and funds that made possible this benevolent deed for the preservation of motor traffic through Ada.

The little band of workers left the Sterling Motor company Thursday morning and spent the day in building the temporary bridge across the 70-foot mudhole that had blocked traffic for the past two weeks.

The work was under the direct supervision of County Commissioner J. L. Laughlin, who praised the work of the Ada Motor club in assisting in the emergency condition.

Several traveling men, who were passing at the time, left their cars and assisted in the work, grateful that an effort was being made to establish traffic for themselves and tourists traveling through this part of the country.

The seriousness of the demoralization of motor traffic by the Springbrook washout was emphasized when one of the army trucks on duty stuck in a mudhole, blocking the road. During the two hours spent in getting the truck out of the hole, cars lined up to the length of several blocks waiting for passage.

Stall reported that several who had promised aid did not report, while others who had only had the matter mentioned to them had responded freely.

WHITEHURST NOT ON PEACE TERMS

Claims Agreement on Wilson Faculty Selection not True Sign.

(By the Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 8.—John A. Whitehurst, president of the state board of agriculture, denied today that his approval of the faculty for the A. & M. college recommended by George Wilson, president of the institution, was significant of a truce between Wilson and himself. Whitehurst bitterly opposed Wilson's appointment, but acquiesced at a board meeting Wednesday to Wilson's list.

"Approval of Wilson's faculty recommendations was in line with my general policy to permit the presidents of the institution to select their own assistants," Whitehurst said.

Whitehurst declared that he was prepared to wage a stern fight at the board meeting July 1 if any attempt is made to interfere with his own corps of workers in the board's office at the capitol.

Whitehurst revealed today that the Walton members of the board at the Wednesday meeting had passed a resolution calling on Eskridge to vacate the president's home on the campus. Unknown to the board Eskridge was at that time en route to Nashville to the bedside of his mother who is critically ill.

When Whitehurst called the Eskridge home by telephone late yesterday he learned of his absence.

Whitehurst said that he did not know what could be done to adjust the situation. Eskridge cannot be asked to leave his mother he said, and the board will not meet again until July 1 when a suspension of the edict could be voted.

Whitehurst said that Mary C. Brogden, retiring dean of women, was given two hours last evening to vacate her apartment in a dormitory on the campus.

Legion To Send "Miss Ada" To Frisco

People who live on the inland side of the Golden Gate in San Francisco's sunny clime know little of the preparations being made out on the plains of Oklahoma to send their best to the convention of the Fifth National American Legion pilgrimage.

In Ada plans are being laid for one of the liveliest delegations from any town in the United States with a population around 10,000 people. "Miss Ada", the popular girl from East Central district will be the queen of Ada Legionnaires who make their annual pilgrimage to the convention.

The Norman Howard post, American Legion of Ada will arrange all matters of expense for the popular girl awarded the honors in a contest just starting. "Miss Ada" will receive railroad expenses to San Francisco, receiving expense funds during the period of the convention of the legion and be the fair representative of Ada when a float carries her through the monster parade of the occasion, which is heralded down from year to year as one of the big events of convention activities.

The contest falls under way Saturday morning, several contestants having already been entered by the various county clubs attending the

WALTON DENIES MEETING MEANT TO HURT LEAGUE

Governor Maintains Conference Called to Work Out Group Problems.

COTTON GROWERS HIT

Wheat Growers not Permitted to Attend Conference Walker Says.

(By the Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 8.—Gov. J. C. Walton denied today that his call for a meeting of the heads of farm and labor organizations to discuss a legislative program was an effort to unsettle the Farmer-Labor Reconstruction League. He said that his purpose in summoning them here June 18 was merely to get an expression from all agricultural and laboring groups in the state as to the means of furthering their cause.

"There is no motive in the call except to get down to the grass roots," the executive said.

"The cotton growers can do as they please. If they are not interested in legislation which is to their advantage they don't have to attend."

"Why should I call the League specifically when I am inviting the men who control it?" the governor asked in reply to a reference that the League had not been invited to send representatives to the conference. "This will be a League meeting," he added.

When the governor's call for the meeting was issued Wednesday it was accepted as a move to end the power of the Reconstruction League. This belief was based largely on the fact that the League was not invited to participate in the conference.

MUSKOGEE, June 8.—In the absence of President Andy McGarry from the state, officers at the district headquarters of the United Mine Workers declined to state what attitude the organization would take on Gov. Walton's meeting of delegates from labor organizations in Oklahoma City, June 18.

ENID, June 18.—If the conference called by Gov. Walton for June 18 for the purpose outlined by the executive of placing the Farm-Labor movement in the hands of the rank and file is called for political reasons, the Oklahoma Wheat Growers association is not permitted by its constitution to participate. It was stated this morning by President Walker of Hollis in a long distance telephone conversation with the Enid Daily Eagle.

Ada Club Slated for Tangle Here With Tishomingo

Ada Amateurs were balancing their chances for another victory in their path for state amateur championship in their prospects with the Tishomingo club here Sunday afternoon at the City Park.

The Tishomingo club has been rated as good and in support of the contention show their victory record over Durant and other teams in that section of the state.

The Ada club is getting into its proper swings as the two victories over Okemah indicate. Effortless playing on the parts of members of the club and a keener eye for batting honors have increased the rating of the team considerably.

TWO SUSPECTS IN CHICAGO MURDER

Policeman Suspended for His Rough Treatment of Reporters.

(By the Associated Press)

CHICAGO, June 8.—Miss Billie Conn, one of the women sought by the police in an effort to clear up the mystery concerning the killing Tuesday night of Richard C. Tesmer by a woman robber while Tesmer's wife looked on, was still held today and was to be confronted by Mrs. Tesmer.

MILWAUKEE, June 8.—Mrs. Gertrude Gotzer, wanted in Chicago in connection with the slaying of Richard C. Tesmer, has been located in a Michigan city, Harry McGarry, captain of detectives of Milwaukee announced at noon today. Capt. McGarry advised the Chicago police that her capture could be effected in short order. The Milwaukee officer did not divulge the woman's exact location.

CHICAGO, June 8.—C. M. Mayo, patrolman, was under suspension today pending investigation by the police board into charges that he had severely beaten several newspaper reporters, including two women writers, when they attempted to attend the inquest at the home of Mrs. Richard Tesmer last Wednesday in connection with the slaying of her husband.

In addition to beating them with his club, the two young women told Chief of Police Collins that Mayo tore their dresses nearly off when they asked to go into the Tesmer residence and then attacked several male reporters and photographers who went to their assistance.

Mayo said he was doing his duty in keeping press representatives away.

START PROBE ON BUCKETING CASE IN CURB FAILURE

Police Called in to Trace Down Records in Curb Market House.

RECORDS ARE STOLEN

Winkelman Failure Intensifies Search for Questionable Concerns.

(By the Associated Press)

NEW YORK, June 8.—District Attorney Banton, who is investigating charges of bucketing against several bankrupt brokerage houses, today called on the police to aid him in tracing records of the curb market house of L. L. Winkelman & Co., which disappeared a few minutes after the involuntary bankruptcy petition had been filed.

Mr. Banton rushed Assistant District Attorney Gibbs to the Winkelman house as soon as he learned of the crash. Mr. Gibbs reported that he had been informed that several large packages, presumably records of the firm, had been taken away in a taxicab.

Failure of the Winkelman house, which was the largest firm holding membership in the New York curb market, intensified Mr. Banton's campaign against brokers alleged to have operated in a questionable manner. United States Attorney Haywood also has entered the investigation seeking evidence of an alleged conspiracy to defraud investors.

George Gordon Battle, attorney for the firm, issued a statement declaring his clients asserted they were solvent and intended to cooperate with the receiver to the fullest extent. Attorney Battle denied that any records had been removed from the Winkelman place of business after the announcement of the failure.

"District Attorney Banton will find," he said, "that all the records that were in the house are as they were before the filing of the bankruptcy petition."

NEW YORK, June 8.—An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed in federal court today against the stock brokerage firm of L. L. Winkelman, second largest member of the New York curb market.

The petition was the climax of an exciting forenoon at the Winkelman offices during which the doors of the firm were temporarily closed only to be opened again later.

Liabilities of the Winkelman firm were placed at $1,750,000 and sets at $1,500,000 in the application for a receivership made before Federal Judge Boudy.

Suspension of the Winkelman firm from the New York curb market was announced shortly before noon.

The Retail Merchants association held one of the banner meetings Thursday evening at the Chamber of Commerce rooms when the merchants entertained the recipients of the registered girls given away several months ago, together with the parents of the boys.

The dinner was served by the ladies of the First Christian church, after which the Woman's Chorus of the city entertained with solos and chorus selections. Miss Natalie Manville rendered two vocal selections. Mrs. Harry Scheinberg rendered a violin solo and Miss Julia Nicholson gave two readings. The chorus gave two selections and responded with an encore.

A talk was made by Mr. Walcott, representative of the Y. M. C. A., who is working particularly in the interest of more religious training among high school boys and girls. He paid a tribute to the good the agricultural clubs are doing and advised the boys present not only to grow blooded stock, but to grow themselves as thoroughbreds.

Six of the ten boys who received the pigs were present. Pete Atkinson and his mother, Mrs. Minnie Atkinson, were unable to get here otherwise, and walked the four miles to the city to be present. They did not walk back.

The boys present were Oscar Cantwell and father, W. B. Cantwell; Bruce Nolen and father, A. E. Nolen; Haskell Tilley and father, T. L. Tilley; Jack McMinn and father, J. O. McMinn; Haskell Floyd and father, C. W. Floyd; Pete Atkinson and mother, Mrs. Minnie Atkinson.

The boys told how they are caring for their hogs and the progress they are making. One says his sow now weighs about 250 pounds.

The next trade day will be held July 7, according to the decision reached and a varied program will be announced later.

Friday the following letter from Haskell Floyd was handed in at the News office:

To the Merchants Association:

In behalf of the Boys Pig Club we want to thank you for the kindness and appreciation shown us yesterday evening—the nice speeches and especially the good things to eat. We are determined to make good with our pigs.

Giant Dirigible Proves Prowess in Strong Gale

(By the Associated Press)

BELLEVILLE, Ill., June 8.—The dirigible A-C-1, with her crew of six, returned to Scott field near here this morning from Wilber Wright field at Dayton, Ohio, after battling with the elements 14 hours. Heavy wind and rainstorms were encountered, but the crew suffered no ill effects.

BELLEVILLE, Ill., June 8.—After a 14 hour flight against the elements during which the crew of five was at the mercy of the winds for two hours when the rudder broke, the A.C.1, the big semi-rigid dirigible, returned to Scott field from Wilber Wright field, Dayton, Ohio.

Officers at Scott field described the trip as an other chapter in the romance of aviation, asserting the 325 mile trip proved the prowess of a big semi-rigid craft in bad weather flying.

HUMANS, PIG AND HORSE FOUND STARVING IN SHACK

Nora Donovan and the six children found with her in the shack.

New York institutions are caring for Nora Donovan, twenty-seven, and six children that were found with her, two men, a pig and a horse, in a one-room shack in the Catskill mountains by New York state police. All the occupants were starving. Mrs. Donovan told troopers the four younger children were hers, but she did not know who their father was. Emsey Wells, one of the men, said he was a widower and the father of the older ones. He is sixty-one. The other man was Wilbur Wright. He is thirty-six. The occupants were taken to New York city by the troopers.

ISLAND DISPUTE FOR CONFERENCE

Rose Covered Island Gets Attention at Lausanne Parley.

(By the Associated Press)
BUCHAREST, June 8.—On the agenda of the Lausanne conference is an item which has baffled the world's statesmen who are trying to reestablish peace in the Near East. It is the question of the "Kadi of Ada Kaleh." At first nobody knew whether Kadi or Ada Kaleh was the name of a man, a geographical term, a state of mind, a mystic Turkish phrase, or a species of banana. Inquiry by the peace delegates, however, showed that Ada Kaleh is a delightful little island in the Danube near the Iron Gates, with only a few thousand Mohammedan inhabitants who grow roses and extract the essence from the leaves. The minaret of the only mosque on the island is a well-known landmark on the Danube as boats pass through the Iron Gates. Ismet Pasha claims Ada Kaleh for Turkey, while Rumania insists it is hers by reason of the Trianon treaty. Before the treaty Ada Kaleh was in Hungarian possession, although the Budapest government always recognized the nominal sovereignty of the sultan over the island. The victories of Kemal Pasha reawakened Turkish nationalism among the peaceful rose and tobacco planters on the picturesque "Isle of Roses," and they sent a petition to Ankara asking Kemal to reestablish the ancient Turkey sovereignty over the island. Mustapha Kemal dispatched a Kadi, or judge to Ada Kaleh, and the Rumanian government, suspecting nothing and regarding him as only a harmless Turkish visitor, granted a visa to Kemal's emissary. Now Ismet Pasha pretends that the granting of the visa is equivalent to the recognition of Turkey's rights to the island. When the Rumanian authorities learned that the newly-arrived Kadi had taken over the administration of the island they immediately asked him to leave Ada Kaleh, and with all honors due to Kemal's governor, the Kadi has very politely been deported from Rumanian territory.

Evangelist Brings Welcomed Messages With Sermons Here

Rev. Butler brought two more great messages yesterday. At the morning hour he preached on "Heaven." It was the best ever heard here on that subject. The listeners "carried away in the spirit" as it were, "to a great high mountain" and shown "That Great City" and "Holy Jerusalem," with its "high walls," "gates of pearl," "streets of gold," and "the great white throne" and "The Lion that sat upon it." "The Lamb that is the light thereof." It was good to be there. The evening service was well attended. The preacher brought another great message from the twelfth verse of the third chapter of John. "Whosoever is in His hand and He will thoroughly purge his floor and gather His wheat into the garner; but He will burn up the chaff with unquenchable fire." The preacher cited many ways the Lord is "burning out the dross." He declared that the calamities and pestilences such as storms, floods, boll weevils, with the financial depression of our country are the judgments of the Almighty God upon the people for their disobedience and sins. Scientists may rack their brain and invent all kinds of methods, and compound chemicals for their destruction but the only remedy is a mighty turning to God and paying Him that which belongs to Him. Malachi 3:6-12. At the close of the sermon there was one profession of faith in Christ and some came for prayer. Conclude this meeting. Services at 10 a. m. and 8 p. m. REVENUE OFFICER STRANGELY SLAIN IN INN ROAD

Officer Brenon of the U. S. Revenue Service was mysteriously shot and killed during a raid on an inn near Palm Beach, Fla., last night. Acting on a hunch, Brenon went to Sheriff Holme's office and enlisted the aid of Detectives Brown, Kane and others. When the officers arrived at the resort, however, they found no traces of liquor. Brenon suggested that someone had tipped off the proprietor. In an ante-room just off of the main hall, was Roger Wainwright, a wealthy New York man who owns the plantations next to Brenon's and who is deeply interested in the officer's beautiful daughter Gail. In a scuffle with Gail, a "bouncer" who had attempted to rob Wainwright of his wallet, a revolver was discharged, the bullet piercing the door. In the hall Brenon, who had shadowed Deputy Brown and discovered him accepting money as payment for tipping off the raid, drops dead. Brown sets out after the suspected murderer. But the all-important question arises: Did Wainwright shot kill Brenon? Witnesses declare that this could not be because of the position in which the officer was standing. He was at an angle from the door of the ante-room, and the bullet would have to travel obliquely to hit him. Again the question arises: Who fired the shot that killed him, and was it an accident? The solution of the mystery is to be found at the McSwain Theatre today in the paramount picture, "Fog Bound," with Dorothy Dalton in the stellar role. The incident described is an outline of scenes in this interesting production by Irvin Willat. Warren Cook plays the role of Brenon, and Deputy Brown is impersonated by Maurice Costello. Roger Wainwright is played by David Powell, the leading man, while the part of Sheriff Kane is in the hands of Jack Richardson. Others in the cast are Martha Mansfield, Mrs. Ella Miller, Willard Conley and William David. Paul Dickey made the adaptation for the screen from the story of Jack Beck-dolt. The photography by Henry Crenjager is a revelation.

ARMS IN IRELAND BEING LOCATED

Few Minor Outbreaks Only Rupture of Truce of Recent Peace.

DUBLIN, June 7.—Obedience to the cease firing order of Frank Paken Chief of Staff for De Valera, has been general throughout Ireland, and the doubt whether irregular activities could be stopped by anybody has not been justified. There have been a few cases of attempted outrage, but not more numerous than those alleged after the truce with the British in 1921. The most noteworthy was the firing of shots at the suburban home of Martin Fitzgerald, proprietor of the Freeman's Journal, when no damage was done. Many irregulars have dumped their arms and returned quietly to their families. And several dumps have been found by the national troops, whose searches continue to be minute and exhaustive. The expectation is that without any formal peace the whole conflict will wear out entirely within a couple of months. Some good political judges, old members of the Irish parliamentary party at Westminster, are of the opinion that the government's lack of ignoring of the De Valera proclamation was much the wisest course, and public opinion is now veering that way. But there are many who think a formal peace would be worth having, if the price were small enough, and intermediaries are still busy with that object. Frank Fahy, a republican member of the Dail, has urged "such a slight change in the constitution as would admit all sections to take part in the life of the nation." This means the abrogation of the oath of allegiance to King George and Republicans believe that England would not now enforce by war that part of the treaty obligation. An element of danger to the prevailing peace may be found in the continuance of executions. Some more are expected very soon following on trials for attacks on troops. Threatening notices have been received by some Free State officers warning them that executions will be avenged. Such threats will not, of course, affect the decision of the commander-in-chief, and the power to fulfill them has been largely curtailed. But the feeling of bitterness caused by executions is very intense, and seems the most likely cause for a renewal of conflict.

Canadian Grower Pours Out Wrath on Titled Court

(By the Associated Press)
MOOSE JAW, Sask., June 8.—Charged with making a scathing speech at a meeting of grain growers last January, Fred McIntyre, a farmer of the Royal George School district, south of Caron, Sask., was recently committed for trial here. He was released on bail. McIntyre is alleged to have made the scathing remarks during a discussion on titles, and is charged with having said: "I count myself as good a man as King George. I would not be scared to challenge him to a foot race, to wrestle, or to fight, although he is fed up in a box stall on choice food. If I had my way, I would take a club and stand at the border and knock the brains out of everyone that came into the country with a title. I would make no mistake about it, as I know where to hit them."

On an island in a river near London there has been established a large hospital for contagious diseases, steamboats serving as its ambulances.

Indiana Lady Says She Was Run-Down, Suffered With Her Back, Took Cardui, and Got Well.

Richmond, Ind.—"I thought I would write a line or so, to say that I owe my good health and strength to Cardui," says a letter from Mrs. Cora Courtney, 31 Railroad Street, this city.

"I was all run-down until my family thought they would lose me," writes Mrs. Courtney. "My husband coaxed me to take Cardui, so, please him, I did, and will say I do not regret it, for I am able to do all my work and do my shopping."

"I have five children, four in school, my husband and a boarder to do for, and I do all my own work for all of us, and find time to play. We all praise Cardui. Every sick and run-down woman should take this wonderful medicine."

"I suffered with my back; a very weak feeling in my limbs."

"I felt hardly able to drag; just tired—so tired all the time."

"It was an effort for me to do anything, but Cardui helped me so I felt like a different woman."

If you are in a run-down physical condition, suffering as this Indiana lady says she did, give Cardui a fair trial. It should help you.

CHURCHES

"A Patriotic Prisoner" And "Whose art thou and whither goest thou?"

At the Presbyterian church Sunday morning you will enjoy the study of the Sunday-school lesson and the sermon of the pastor on the life and character of a prisoner of war who became popular and held responsible place as the private servant of the king in the country of his captivity, but whose love of home and country never waned but burned as a fire in his soul till the king permitted him to return and build the walls of his native city. Then again you should attend the services at night and get a part of two or three other inspiring bible stories in considering with the pastor the question "Whose art thou and whither goest thou?"

Bible stories of real heroes are always more fascinating and far more inspiring than fiction because here you study real characters and makers of history while in fiction you often study the hallucinations of a mind incapable of great thoughts inspiring to noble deeds.

We are now under permanent roof in our unfinished church and you will find our large airy basement cool and our services and fellowship refreshing to lonesome homesick students or to weary overworked minds and bodies so come along and know us and each other better and above all know the Lord better and be strengthened for the tasks of the week to follow.

"Come thou with us and we will do thee good."

REV. E. O. WHITWELL, D. D. Minister.

First Baptist Church.

Next Sunday will be "Baby Day" at the First Baptist Sunday School. This is an annual affair at our church and is one of the great days in all the year. Mrs. F. R. Laird is the superintendent of this department and has an enrollment of about seventy babies. The mothers and fathers are urged to come Sunday and bring their babies and at the close of the Sunday School lesson period they will give a short program. The mothers will sit on the rostrum with their little ones. If there are other mothers who have babies who have not been enrolled in that department, they are urged to bring their babies Sunday morning and they will also be enrolled.

We had a total of 560 in our Sunday school last Sunday and 97 at the Westside Mission making a total of 657 in all our schools. We are expecting to go beyond 700 this Sunday and this is your invitation to be present and help make it possible.

The pastor will preach Sunday morning on the subject, "The Conditions of Discipleship," and at the evening hour on the subject, "The Tragedy of the Beginning of Sin." The B. Y. P. U.'s will meet at seven o'clock. They had a combined attendance last Sunday of more than one hundred fifty. All the young people are cordially invited and urged to come and unite with one of these unions.

OIL NEWS

Work has begun on a deep test in the northwest quarter of section 3-2-5, just north and east of Fitzhugh. The material for the derrick is going on the ground today and actual work started two or three days ago. The test is on the Henry farm.

C. E. Lehman and associates of Tulsa are the operators and Headley and West are doing the drilling.

This is considered an important test. A well was put down a mile west of Fitzhugh several years ago by Barnsdall but it was not drilled deep and was never considered a test of the territory.

Speeder List to Dictate of Mayor in Speed Orders

Speeders are calming down and listening to reason. Mayor W. H. Fisher stated today, after completing a full week of instruction and more forcible pressure on the would-be speed maniacs.

Four arrests during the past week have been dealt with in scheduled precision by Mayor Fisher, fines being handed down in each of the cases.

One arrest of last night was released on a promise to heed all laws of traffic and use special care to prevent his car from exceeding the speed limit.

Mayor Fisher plans the initiation of stop ruling for street corners on principal stems of thoroughfare with the pledge to adhere to this ruling as rigidly as others governing the traffic regulations in the city.

OFFICIAL VIEW OF STATE POLITICS

A Press Bureau is conducted at Oklahoma City by the national and state Democratic committees hence its expressions are to be regarded as more or less official. A part of its last bulletin dealing with state politics reads as follows:

"There has been much expression in the last fortnight because of peculiar political conditions in our state. Not the least among these was the appointment of George Wilson by the board of agriculture as the president of the A. and M. college. Mr. Wilson is, of course, head of the Nonpartisan League in Oklahoma, and his appointment would lead the careless to the conclusion that the element of society with which he affiliates is transcendent, when, as a matter of fact, it carries slight weight in affairs of politics.

"Mr. Wilson is but a feature in Oklahoma politics at the present time. There is a wave of radicalism which follows all movements to reform and he has led very successfully in the march toward the radical in this state. His success or failure at the second highest educational institution of the state has very little to do with state politics. In truth, the governor has but paid a political debt, and in paying he may have won laurels rather than trouble. If Mr. Wilson is able to act as the head of the great educational institution he will silence his enemies, and if he fails his dismissal is only a matter of time.

"The signs of the times are favorable to democracy. The governor is handicapped because of the fact that in his march to the present position he was forced to accept the favor of the radicals. Almost prosaic in his conservatism, he has never received just criticism for the reason that in politics we must all stand for those who have rounded the track.

"It is a matter of common knowledge Mr. Wilson is not a pleasing person to a large number of citizens of the state, but in the event that he makes good, that will pass.

"It is certain that the governor has done nothing which has set him off to one side so much as the appointment of Wilson, and in the event that the latter makes good nothing will go stronger to place him high in the public esteem.

"Viewed from this angle, Mr. Wilson has within his power the probability of making an administration a success or a failure."

Every question has two sides, and now comes the United States Sugar Association with an arraignment of the government for its attack on the sugar and coffee exchange of New York in consequence of the high price of sugar and raking those who advocated a boycott as a means of forcing the price down. It charges that Senator Reed Smoot in trying to boost the interests of the beet sugar growers undertook to force the Cuban planters to cut their crop and failing in this put up a high tariff wall against foreign sugar thus raising the price considerably to American consumers. Furthermore, it gives figures to show that the world's crop is short and that the country faces a shortage. It advocates an investigation of the beet sugar crowd and the prosecution of some of them for their attempt at restraint of trade. It asserts that the consumers pay two cents per pound more for their sugar under the present tariff law than they would otherwise be called on to pay. The United States consumes far more sugar than it produces, so every consumer pays a bonus to the sugar growers.

According to a statement issued by Governor Walton today, the meeting of farm and labor organizations called by him for the 18th is not for the purpose of ousting the Reconstruction League from its position of power, but to ascertain what legislation the various groups want. Surmises have been numerous concerning his real intentions but this apparently settles the question. However, in view of his statement that he is not going to call a special session of the legislature this meeting is quite a distance in advance of the time when measures will be under consideration.

It is reported that the board of regents of the state university at its recent meeting decided to go outside of the state for a president of the institution. Perhaps it is very well to do that if a man big enough for the job can be found who will accept it. However, until Oklahoma schools are taken out of the mire of politics in which they have floundered ever since statehood much of the money spent on them will continue to be wasted. Reputable school men will hesitate about risking their careers in the hands of politicians.

It is estimated that there is enough coal under the surface of the United States to last the country a little more than 6,000 years. With a prospect of that kind this generation will not likely freeze to death.

It is not the volume of money that counts so much but the rapidity with which it circulates that keeps business booming. A single $5 bill could pay many hundreds of dollars of debts in one day if applied to that purpose.

INCOMES IN OKLAHOMA

(Shawnee News)
Income tax figures for the state of Oklahoma for 1921 just made public by the collector of internal revenue, reveal some very radical changes over the peak year of 1920 and indicate how radical the process of adjustment was during the year.

While there are only one-eighth less persons paying a tax for 1921 the amounts they paid amounted to less than one-third of the figure in 1921, despite the fact that the number making returns was the second largest in the history of the state.

Compared with the United States Oklahoma shows more than the average decrease, for the country as a whole lost but 8.23 in number of returns filed while the loss in total tax was but 33.08 percent.

The number of individuals making income tax returns in Oklahoma in 1920 was 81,785, while in 1921 the number was 69,381. The total amount of net income reported in 1920 was $295,790,791 but in 1921 the figures show but $101,816,067 and the average amount dropped from $3,617 to $2,765.

The tax itself for 1920 was $13,518,211, while in 1921 it dropped down to $4,206,507 and the average return for each person from $164 to $61.

The returns for 1921 show that Oklahoma ranks twenty-fourth in the list of state for the number of returns made, falling just below Colorado and Kentucky, while she is twenty-fifth in the total tax paid, Oregon, with 6,577 less reporting, showing $745,075 more in actual tax paid.

While 1922 was far from being a boom year itself there is reason to believe that things had become sufficiently readjusted so that an actual gain in the number reporting and the total tax paid will be shown when the report is finally made public.

SELF-MASTERY AS A FIRST AID

(Times, Asheville, N. C.)
Claude Kitchin's effectiveness as a debater was due in no small degree to the admirable control which he had over his temper. It often happened that he was the storm-center of many a congressional rally but even in the warmth of heated debate, he never lost his head. He was always the same smiling, genial Rupert giving and receiving blows without allowing his feelings to become ruffled.

Mr. Kitchin's mastery of himself was an acquired trait. He inherited an ugly temper and in his early days he was not reluctant to exhibit it when the provocation was great. He soon learned, however, that if he hoped to succeed, he must control himself.

It appears from an anecdote for which Mr. Kitchin himself vouched that the perils of a hair-triggered temper were brought home to him by an incident which happened in the court room. The residing judge did not decide the issues to suit the fancy of the young lawyer and Kitchin proceeded to make a scene. After saying and doing things that almost caused a free-for-all fight, he brought his temper under control. As he tells the story, "It suddenly occurred to me that if I expected to get along I had to put ice on my head and a bridle on my tongue. Right there I decided that I would never get mad with anybody again."

That Kitchin succeeded well in carrying out this resolution is abundantly proven by his demeanor in congress. There was perhaps no more genial member of either house. His words were often barbed with sarcasm and compelling in their denunciation but they were uttered by a man who always had complete sovereignty over himself and who was never so deadly as when he was smiling.

Mr. Kitchin's life tends to prove that he that is slow to anger will become the mighty and that he that ruleth his spirit will take the city.

DUSTIN FARNUM A WOMAN TAMER IN NEW FOX FILM

You will see Dustin Farnum in the role of a woman tamer in his latest William Fox production "The Buster" which comes to the American Theatre next Saturday.

It is a novel and fascinating part and the robust movie idol acquires himself in a fashion that will thrill the most biased of picture-goers. "The Buster" tells the story of the rough, handsome Westerner, who is called upon to tame a beautiful, but temperamental society belle from New York. How he tackles the most difficult of tasks and how he succeeds, goes to the making of an interesting picture.

The direction of the photoplay was in the hands of Colin Campbell, and the adaptation of the story by William Fatterson White was made by Jack Sturmwasser. The photography reproduces many picturesque nature "sets" that were "shot" in the American Rockies.

The director has artistically brought to the fore the infectious smile, the splendid physique, and the manly robustness of Farnum, and wrought them all into the western tale. Romance and action are the keynotes of the theme.

In the support of the Fox star are Doris Pawn, Francis McDonald, Gilbert Holmes and Lucille Hutton.

WEEK-END GARDENS BOON TO STOCKHOLM

(By the Associated Press)
STOCKHOLM—The regular week-end exodus of 7,000 industrial workers armed with garden tools is one of the unique signs of spring now appearing in the Swedish capital. Every one of these amateur gardeners has his own "colony lot" in the large co-operative garden colonies situated in what appears to be country, though actually within the city limits. Here he grows his own flowers and vegetables, and finds a retreat from the factories and city streets.

The 7,000 colonists are grouped into fifty different garden sections in the outskirts of the city, and the administrative work is in the hands of co-operative garden societies. The plots of ground worked by individuals vary in size from 1,800 to 5,500 square feet, and the rentals range from $2.50 to $15.00 for the season. Greens, vegetables, strawberries and various other garden products are raised, enough to supply the workers own table and to yield him a small profit beside.

Among the thousands of Oklahoma people who are praising Tanlac for their return to health is Mrs. F. T. Kennard, R. F. D. Arcadia, Okla., wife of a well known farmer. Mrs. Kennard recently said:

"Tanalac filled the requirements of my case so perfectly that I am well and happy again after ten long years of suffering, and am glad to join everybody else in its praise. 'I tried many things but until I found Tanlac nothing suited my case. I was in a terribly rundown condition from indigestion, stomach trouble and nervousness. Twenty-Six Expeditions Now Planned By Scientists For Explorations During Summer

(By the Associated Press)

CHICAGO, June 8.—Twenty-six scientific expeditions from nine colleges and universities of the Middle West will be working in various parts of the world during this summer, according to reports received from these institutions made public here.

In addition to the nine expeditions being sent from the University of Iowa, as announced some time ago, Ohio State University, The University of Oklahoma and Purdue University each will have two expeditions working for them, while single expeditions will go out from Indiana University, Earlham College, Notre Dame and the Indiana State Normal School.

Ohio State University will send Dr. W. C. Mills to investigate the mode of living of prehistoric men in Ohio, a thousand years ago and Prof. Robert F. Webb will head a party of students who will study rock construction, stratigraphy and plateau construction in Arizona, Colorado and New Mexico.

The University of Oklahoma will send one expedition under the leadership of Dr. Samuel Weidmann, to study ore deposits in the Miami region and another, under Dr. V. E. Monnett, to investigate and study structural geology in the Arbuckle mountains.

Indiana University students, under Professor W. A. Cogshall will go to lower California to obtain photographic records of the solar corona during the total eclipse of the sun September 10.

Earlham college students will make the trip to Yellowstone Park for a summer field course.

Purdue University plans two expeditions within the boundaries of the state. One will be to the sand dunes in northern Indiana, while the other will be made to southeastern Indiana.

Dr. James Burns, of the University of Notre Dame, assisted by Rev. M. McGarry, plans some excavations throughout the state of Michigan. Dr. Burns also contemplates making a special study of the sand dunes in the vicinity of Michigan City, Ind.

Indiana State Normal school students will make an extended journey for the purpose of studying geography. Professor F. J. Broeze will be in charge, but the territory to be explored has not been announced.

What has become of the contented housewife we used to read about in old time fiction.

There is no broadcasting station quite as effective as the woman who hears a piece of scandal.

Even if the girl doesn't like to get married just now, she likes to be engaged.

There are more high flyers on the ground than in the aviation corps.

Crossing the street is something on the tune with music, if you stop sharp you'll be knocked flat.

It is always a very good policy when you are in doubt whether to kiss a girl good night, to give yourself the benefit of the doubt.

These getting up exercises are the ones that bother us these mornings.

It is often fortunate that the girl who thinks she is the life of the party really never knows what the other members of said party think about her.

Perhaps the greatest blessing of the radio is that it makes the cars stay back.

It is consistently rumored that the radio added 600 cuss words to our language.

We mortals have to sweat and shoo. The flies from dawn to dark. 'Cause Noah didn't sweat the two. That rested in his ark.

It is claimed that the vamp is an unfinished kid. Most of the vamps leave the impression of being exceedingly raw and in several instances we can see their finish.

It has been consistently rumored that Bobby Blanks has rivals for the lap of ease, Bill Williamson and Derald Duncan staying up late to loaf while Bobby gets his beauty nap.

A Business Woman

By ELLA SAUNDERS

(C. 1923, Western Newspaper Union.)

THE great day that Edna Harkness had been looking forward to for 15 years had come. She had had a letter from Robert announcing that he was coming East for a visit.

Fifteen years before they had been engaged. They had quarreled and separated, and Robert had gone West. Now, a prosperous business man, he was coming back to see the old folks. And Edna. Did she remember him?

Fifteen years before Edna Harkness had been a shy, timid girl stenographer with Jones & Co., the big importing house. Now she was head of one of Jones & Co.'s principal departments, earning $75 a week. She had an apartment uptown, and owned her furniture.

And, since business had absorbed all her active life, she had never married.

"If I'd married Bob," she often thought, "I'd be mothering a pack of brats, and darning Bob's socks, and scrubbing dishes, instead of coming home to my comfy little apartment, going out when I want to, and having a good time in general."

And as her friends' dropped one by one into the matrimonial noose, she looked on them with wondering pity.

Bob had never married, and in her mind Edna was hoping that the old attraction would revive sufficiently on his part for him to make her a proposal.

She liked Bob a great deal, but she couldn't help remembering that last quarrel of theirs, and she meant to lead him on very imperceptibly, and then throw him down hard.

"Good gracious, any woman would be a fool to leave all this, even for a rich man like Bob," she said.

And she thought of all that she had gathered about her in the way of material comfort. There was $4,000 in the bank, too. No, no, Bob, thank you!

When the great evening came she was spruced up to receive Bob. She looked at her reflection in the mirror. Yes, she was still a pretty woman, at thirty-five. And Bob—Bob must be forty, if he was a day.

And fat, probably. Oh, she was going to be particularly nice to Bob.

But when he came into her apartment, the same well-remembered figure, only a little older, when he took her in his arms and gave her her first kiss in fifteen—no, ten years; there had been a little flirtation one evening—for a moment the old spell held her.

"You shouldn't have done that, Bob," she said, a little indignantly. What right had he to reawaken those memories, those sentimental memories of the past?

"Edna, you look perfectly stunning," said Bob, sitting on the arm of the chair. Oh, just the way he used to do. And I hear you've been successful."

"Yes, pretty successful," answered Edna. "And you, too?"

"Why, the fact is," said Bob, "I've made a damned fool of myself. Came East in connection with an old deal, and those sharks in Wall street got under my skin. Yes, I've dropped twenty thousand, every penny I'd saved. However, the old job's waiting for me, and it's just a matter of going back and making good again."

Poor Bob! Edna's pity overcame her little plan of revenge. Bob, prosperous, well-dressed, and good-looking, was a foeman worthy of her steel. But Bob, well-dressed and good-looking, but without a penny, was an object of pity.

So she would not have to show him that she preferred her independence and her comforts to a husband.

"I shan't be able to come to see you again," he was saying. "I've had a wire from the firm asking me to hurry back to Denver. So I'm going back tomorrow to take up the old deadly grind. But I should feel better now I've seen you, Edna."

He rose. "Edna, I may as well tell you," he said, "that you're the only woman who has meant anything much to me in my life. And when I started East I meant to ask you something—which I can't ask you now that I've dropped everything. Because it would mean just a small house outside Denver, and not even a car."

What was that absurd woman saying? Edna listened to herself in amazement.

"I shouldn't mind if you—wanted to take me back with you, Bob."

Care of the Eyes.

If your eyes are red or inflamed, or if reading gives you a headache, or if any use of the eyes gives you pain, you should consult a physician at once. Never abuse the eyes by trying to look cross-eyed, or turning the eyes in an unnatural way. Looking at bright lights, such as the sun or electric lights, is injurious.

If by chance dirt or dust get into the eyes, do not rub the eyes, but look down toward the ground and gently pull the upper lid down over the affected eye. This usually brings away the dirt. As soon as possible bathe the eyes (or better, use a clean eye dropper) and use cool boric acid lotion (teaspoonful of boric acid powder dissolved in a tumblerful of boiling water) to relieve the smarting and remove any dust that remains under the eyelids.

Tobacco smoke is bad for the eyes. It weakens and inflames them, and often makes the eyelids red along the edges.

Ant hills in South Africa sometimes reach a height of 25 feet.
